Plumbing Trade Indicted

Charging conspiracy to restrain trade in violation of anti-trust laws, the U.S. justice department struck at the plumbing industry in a continent-wide indictment against 102 manufacturers, jobbers and unions. Above, C. B. Nolte, left, president of the Crane Company, Chicago; and Walter J. Kohler, chairman of Kohler Company, Kohler, Wis., two of the individuals indicted. (Acme).

Baby Mix-up

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mahoney in Los Angeles with the baby which may not be theirs, received a shock when told that faulty methods in taking footprints of their son at birth made accurate identification impossible. The Mahoneys are now suing for $16,000 damages, claiming substitution of babies 18 months ago.

Final Bulletins

Hope British Navy Avoids Japan Shores

LONDON (CP)—A British spokesman said today that Japan, in the course of normal diplomatic contacts, had "expressed the hope that Britain would avoid naval action near Japanese shores," but that Britain insisted on belligerent rights.

New Treason Law

PARIS (AP)—The new decree branding the dissemination of Communist propaganda as "treason," punishable by death, was reported tonight to have been prepared for Premier Reynaud's signature by Henri Roy, Minister of the Interior.

Sees U.S. in War

DENVER (AP)—Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N.Y., publisher charged today that "under the pretense that it is for defence, we are getting ready for battle with foreign foes."

"There is doubt in the minds of many whether we can keep out of this European mess if President Roosevelt remains in office," the presidential candidate added in an address prepared for a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Mauretania at Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—Large crews of United States customs men and police gathered at Pier 11 today amid reports that the British liner Mauretania would put in here en route to a trans-Pacific destination.

The Mauretania left New York harbor March 20, reportedly en route to Australia to transport soldiers.

First definite indication the Mauretania would stop here came from the British consul, who asked customs authorities not to permit newspapermen to enter the customs boat which will meet the ship.

Knight Raises Cane

Photographers moved quickly after snapping this picture in London of Sir Charles Allom, architect and contractor, mentioned in the House of Commons as being concerned in war contract profiteering and deals. Sir Charles charged on the double for the photographers, swinging his cane like the knights of old did their swords. Then, the noble knight said he would thrash all M.P.'s who said anything about his business.

McNeil Given 10 Years, Garrett 5 and Pullen 3

Jack McNeil, convicted as the masked man who robbed the Victoria West branch of the Royal Bank with Walter McLaren on February 1, was given 10 years in the penitentiary as Chief Justice Morrison passed sentences at the close of the Assize Court here today.

Monny Pullen, found guilty of retaining stolen automobile tires, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Gordon Garrett, convicted on a count of breaking and entering with intent to steal, was sentenced to five years.

McNeil shouted his protestations of innocence to the court, and condemned the testimony of the crown's main identification witness.

"I have been found guilty by a jury of my fellow countrymen. I'm the victim of a mistaken identity. A grave miscarriage of justice has taken place," he cried from the prisoner's dock.

There was, he said, no malice in his heart against the members of the jury. After quoting from the Bible, he asked any jurymen present to take his words home and think them over.

McNeil thanked Stuart Henderson for the defence he had conducted, and attacked the vague answers given by a prosecution witness to any question which might have aided him.

Alien Export Ring Traced By G-Men On U.S. Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Times said today federal authorities are investigating an alien export smuggling ring extending from Canada to California and Florida.

The inquiry is centred, the newspaper stated, at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle harbors, where a number of aliens recently were reported shipped to the Orient, using purportedly forged passports.

Asserting the investigation is being conducted directly by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Times reported a number of aliens figuring in the inquiry are believed to have escaped from Canadian concentration camps and were smuggled into this country.

Others, the newspaper stated, are aliens who entered the United States before the outbreak of war and have stayed beyond the expiration of their "visitors" permits.

PAROLEE FLED

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of the internment operations department said today a German parolee from an internment camp in Canada had jumped his parole and was believed to be somewhere in the western United States.

However, regarding the Los Angeles Times' report that a number of aliens figuring in an inquiry are believed to have escaped from Canadian internment camps, it was said here there have been only two escapes from such camps and both men were recaptured.

BRITISH COMMONS IN SECRET SITTING

LONDON (CP)—A secret sitting of the Commons will take place next Thursday for a discussion of the conduct of economic warfare, Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House today.

Before the Prime Minister's announcement in the House opposition Leader Clement R. Attlee had said there would be difficulty in discussing economic warfare publicly.

"I recognize that the subject is one of great importance and one which perhaps it might be difficult to debate in public," Mr. Chamberlain replied. "I shall be very glad to make the necessary arrangements for a secret session."

The only previous secret sitting during this war held was December 13.

Double Sessions For M.P.'s, But No Double Pay

By NORMAN McLEOD

OTTAWA — The government will have ready for Parliament, which meets early in May, the budget for the coming year, including taxation proposals to increase a present revenue of $300,000,000 a year to more than $1,000,000,000 a year. After the passage of this fiscal program the chamber will adjourn—not prorogue—to meet later in the fall, or earlier at the call of the government if any war emergency should arise.

NO EXTRA PAY FOR M.P.'S

Such a plan of having Parliament not only sit more frequently, but also be available for emergencies that may arise, will mean more work for M.P.'s. But MacKenzie King ruled there shall not be any more pay. For there will be no separate indemnities for the spring and fall sessions. It will be regarded, for the purposes of remuneration, as all one session, with the recess intervening simply an adjournment.

The Prime Minister is understood to be disturbed by no fears that the M.P.'s may rebel against the new regime. He takes it for granted that the newly-elected legislators are all patriots and that the greater opportunity they are given of serving their country, the better satisfied they will be.

UNPOPULAR POLICIES COMING

One of the reasons why Mr. King proposes to lean more heavily on Parliament is that many of the policies the government inevitably will sponsor will not be of a wholly popular nature, however necessary they may be. The taxation program threatens to saddle the people with a burden such as they have never known before. For in this war, international and governmental finances being what they are, the cost cannot be passed cavalierly on to posterity. Furthermore, there will be interference in the realm of private business and with individual liberties before normal times are won back.

IN DEMOCRATIC WAY

Facing this prospect, the government naturally wants Parliament to take as much of the responsibility as is possible for the measures of national emergency. It is looked upon as important that things to be done should be done with as little appearance of dictatorship as possible, and that the people should realize the

U-boat War for Pacific?

Conflict in Pacific waters threatens as Britain begins to strike blows at German supply lines, intensifying her blockade by stopping shipment of American, Canadian and Mexican metals through Russia to Germany. Extension of the blockade to cover ship routes charted on the map, is expected to bring retaliation sinkings from Nazi U-boats reported based south of Vladivostok and operating out into the Pacific towards our coastline.

C.A.S.F. Appointment

Odlum to Command Canada's 2nd Division

OTTAWA (CP)—Brigadier General Victor W. Odlum has been selected to command the 102nd Canadian Division of the Canadian Active Service Force, Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Defence, announced today.

"In making this selection the government of Canada has been influenced by General Odlum's long and distinguished career and his devotion to the service of his country, both in the field and as a citizen of Canada," Mr. Rogers' statement said.

General Odlum has been a member of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation since its creation in 1936 and recently was appointed vice-chairman of the board.

General Odlum, born at Cobourg, Ont., October 21, 1880, started his military career at the age of 17 as a private in the 22nd Oxford Rifles at Woodstock, Ont.

He served in the South African War, being awarded the Queen's South African Medal with three clasps.

On his return to Canada, he followed courses at Victoria College and the University of Toronto, specializing in political economy.

He served as a lieutenant in the 48th Highlanders of the Canadian militia in Toronto. Later he was with the 6th Regiment

(Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles) in Vancouver, the 102nd Regiment at Nelson, B.C., the 100th Winnipeg Grenadiers and the 11th Regiment (Irish Fusiliers of Canada) in Vancouver.

Appointed a major in the 7th Battalion, C.E.F., he saw active service in France.

He became lieutenant-colonel and officer commanding that unit in April, 1915. In 1916, he was promoted brigadier-general and appointed to command the 11th Canadian Infantry Brigade. He was then 35 years of age.

Gen. Odlum was thrice wounded, the first time in August, 1915, and then in May, 1915, and September, 1918.

Transferred to the reserve of officers of demobilization from the C.E.F. on December, 1919, he was appointed on September 10, 1930, officer commanding the 23rd Infantry Brigade at Vancouver. He was transferred to the reserve of officers at the expiration of his tenure of command and was appointed honorary colonel of the Irish Fusiliers of Canada, his old unit.

His honors include C.B., C.M.G. and D.S.O.

In private life a bond and insurance broker, Gen. Odlum sat as a member of the B.C. Legislature from 1924 to 1928.

BIG PULP MILL FOR PT. ALBERNI

Bloedel, Stewart & Co., who have extensive logging and milling interests on Vancouver Island, will enter the pulp industry. They will construct a mill at Port Alberni capable of producing 135 tons of pulp each day. The plant will employ 150 men with an additional 125 men in the woods.

Mayor W. C. Hamilton of Port Alberni, accompanied by Alderman E. A. D. Jones, chairman of the finance committee, and Alderman W. Giles, were in the city today discussing with officials of the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Department of Trade and Industry. It is understood that government approval has been given the plan.

Work on the pulp mill will start immediately and the cost of the undertaking will be $2,750,000. It is expected that the population of Port Alberni will be increased by 1,500 when the pulp mill is working full time.

Bloedel & Stewart have large stands of hemlock, which is heavily used in pulp production.

discipline of taxation and personal restrictions to which they submit, they impose upon themselves through their representatives, not one arbitrarily decreed by some absolutist group in the country.

It looks as though the Prime Minister intended that this democracy should wage war in a democratic way and should not become a military dictatorship of the character that it is fighting in Europe.

PLUNGES 600 FEET OVER SCENIC PALI

HONOLULU (AP)—Mrs. Sydney S. Bunting, the former Margo Tucker Rand of Oakland, Cal., wife of a navy lieutenant-commander, was killed today in a 600-foot fall down the face of Nuuanu Pali, a cliff at the entrance of scenic Nuuanu Valley, six miles from Honolulu.

Corporal Ray C. Stocks of the 21st U.S. Infantry, said he saw Mrs. Bunting sitting on a rock outside the cliff's retaining wall. He saw her start sliding and turned his head to avoid witnessing the fall.

Stocks said another infantryman called out and covered his face with his hands.

Her automobile was found nearby. In it were letters addressed to her physician, Dr. William H. Wynn, who identified the body, and to her husband, who as navigator of the cruiser Astoria was somewhere in the Pacific on fleet manoeuvres.

Firemen and police required several hours to recover the body from the cliff's base.

Friends said Mrs. Bunting recently had undergone severe nervous strain as a result of illness of her son, 12.

Her sister, formerly a librarian in Oakland, is now Mrs. Helen Hempstead Ruxton of Sidney, B.C., "Hamewith," Roberts Bay, near Victoria. Also surviving is Mrs. Bunting's mother, Mrs. Annie Hempstead Rand, living with Mrs. Ruxton, and two brothers.

Hitler Missed His Big Chance, Says Chamberlain

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain proudly told his Conservative Party council today that he was "10 times as confident" of victory now as at the beginning of the war.

"When we embarked upon this war," he said, "I felt we should be bound to win it. After seven months of war, I feel 10 times as confident as I did at the beginning."

The Prime Minister said he believed that never before in all Great Britain's history had the nation been "so completely united upon the broad aims of our policy and upon our determination to carry on this fight until we have achieved our purpose."

Speaking the first day after the reorganization of his cabinet, he praised the decision of the political parties to lay aside party strife as far as possible "in order to concentrate on winning the war."

"I do not claim the government should be exempt from criticism," he declared, "but I do feel that as we are all agreed as to what we want out of this war, the government of the day is entitled to claim general support for its war policy."

WAITED TOO LONG
The Prime Minister said Germany had begun preparing for war long before it started, but that "one thing is certain—Hitler missed the bus."

Hitler's failure to "take advantage of his initial superiority and to make an endeavor to overwhelm us and France before we had time to make good our deficiencies," he called a "very extraordinary thing."

"We must admit—I do admit—that we have not yet succeeded in so bringing work and workers together as to make full use of our existing manpower," Chamberlain said.

"That means we have not reached our full strength. We are making great efforts to do so."

Of Germany's failure to strike hard at the beginning, Mr. Chamberlain declared it might have been "that Hitler thought he might get away with what he had not without fighting for it or... that, after all, preparations were not sufficiently complete."

ENORMOUS GAINS
The seven months of war, he said, have enabled the Allies to "make good and remove our weaknesses, to consolidate and tune up every arm, offensive and defensive, and so enormously add to our fighting strength that we can face the future with calm, whatever it brings."

Mr. Chamberlain continued: "I would be the last to underestimate the enemy's strength or his determination to use that strength without scruple and without mercy if he thinks he can do so without getting his blows returned with interest."

"I say this, too—the very completeness of his preparations has left him little margin of strength to call upon."

The Prime Minister declared Germany "has not any real friend in the world" and hinted at impending new measures to make the Allies' blockade of Germany escape-proof.

LOOPHOLES PLUGGED

"You can take it from me," he said, "that one by one leaks and loopholes are being stopped, and that as the war goes on that strangling effect will more and more drain the lifeblood out of our enemy."

On the other hand, the Prime Minister declared, there is no shortage of food in Britain.

"If sometime later on we want to save shipping space for war materials or if we want to restrict demands upon our foreign exchange we may have to do without some things that we have been used to, but we can stand a lot of curtailment yet without feeling any the worse for it," he said.

He said consideration for neutrals had hampered the Allies' blockade, but warned that "it cannot be expected that we should allow Germany indefinitely to profit by our scrupulousness and to draw aid and comfort from neutrals who are not free agents and who know in their hearts, whatever they may say, that our victory spells freedom for them whereas our defeat would doom them to slavery."

NOT TO BE CHEATED
The recent British-French declaration of a closer alliance gave the "best assurance" that "we shall not be cheated out of the fruits of victory, and that the essential elements of European security will be available to us when the war is over," he told the council.

"Our victory," he said, "spells freedom."

"I ask you to bear in mind that this is a war of will and the will to conquer—I put my faith in the courage and tenacity of our race, which has never failed."

BAPTIST CHURCHES CLAIM BEQUEST

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hearing of a legal tangle involving a $100,000 bequest to the Baptist Church in British Columbia today stood adjourned indefinitely in the B.C. Supreme Court owing to the indisposition of a counsel for the church.

The legacy was left by John Morton, Vancouver pioneer, who died in 1912, to take effect on the death of the widow, which occurred last December.

The will authorized her to appoint a trustee for the $100,000 fund. In 1924 Mrs. Morton appointed Rev. P. C. Parker and the following year named Rev. A. A. McLeod, who has since died.

Questions for determination are who is the trustee of the fund, what it amounts to and who are its beneficiaries. Both the Baptist Church of British Columbia and the convention of Regular Baptists in British Columbia are claimants.

F. Morley College Head

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Felix Morley, editor of the Washington Post and brother of Christopher Morley, the author, will leave his editorial chair in September to become head of Haverford College, a Quaker school for men.

He will succeed Dr. William Wistar Comfort, retiring in June after 23 years as president.

Bury Prospectors Side By Side

J. Coombs, father of Lloyd Coombs, 24-year-old trapper prospector whose body was found Tuesday in a cabin at Vernon Lake on Vancouver Island, said today his son would be buried beside his partner, James Ryckman, 56.

He said arrangements for the funeral of the two men have not been made, but he is seeking permission from the Department of National Defence to have a military plane fly the bodies from Zeballos, where they probably will be taken from the lake some time today.

"We won't bring one without the other," Coombs said. "They went together and they will be buried together. I think that is how they would have wished it."

Coombs disclosed that his son would have been in uniform had he lived to return to Vancouver. He was in a nonpermanent militia regiment, but left to winter at the lake with Ryckman before the outbreak of the war. Ryckman died of starvation and there was a bullet in Coombs' head, apparently fired by himself.

WANTED TO BE TRAPPER

Young Coombs came from Winnipeg with his family when he was a small boy and, according to his sister, Mrs. George Edwards, "always wanted to be a trapper."

"He knew Mr. Ryckman and when he heard he wanted a partner, decided to go, though he hadn't done anything like that before," she said.

Albert Ryckman, the son of the older partner, said his father had trapped most of his life and once was lost in the same country. He was rescued when signal shots were heard and spent a week in hospital to recover.

"He always used to say that though he might get lost in that country there was no need to worry, one could always find something to eat," Ryckman said.

Ryckman added he thought of flying in some food to Vernon Lake at Christmas time, but decided it was too expensive. He is awaiting the arrival of his brother, Edward, from Hanna, Alta.

Constable N. J. Winegarden of the Provincial Police and Coroner Ralph Thistle planned to take off by plane this afternoon for Vernon Lake, where the emaciated bodies of two trapper-prospectors were found Tuesday by Pilot Jack Hames of Ginger Cootie Airways.

Eden Visits Canada Fliers

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH OF ENGLAND (CP)—Dominions Secretary Anthony Eden visited the first overseas squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force at its training station today and told the airmen "it is obvious you are ready for any task and eager for it to come."

With L. B. Pearson, secretary of Canada House, London, and a group of Royal Air Force and Dominion officials, the young cabinet minister flew from London to spend four hours with the Canadians.

When his plane landed after a bumpy flight that made some officials airsick, the squadron was drawn up on parade. One corner of the otherwise gold square of air force blue was formed of khaki—the army co-operation unit. Most of these men are air spotters, who are taken on reconnaissance flights to map artillery targets and such.

After walking between the ranks by the side of Squadron Leader W. D. Van Vliet of Winnipeg, officer commanding the squadron, and stopping occasionally to inquire how the men were getting along away from home, Mr. Eden stood under an R.A.F. ensign and addressed the men who will be the air eyes of the Canadian army in the field.

"The issue," he said, "is clear enough. If Hitler and his associates were to win this war, there would be no freedom in Europe and not much life outside it except through suffering. We are not fighting this war for the pleasure of fighting another one 25 years hence. Hitler, and that for which he stands, must be completely crushed."

In closing, the Dominions Secretary thanked Canadians for coming to help and avowed Britain would be "eternally grateful."

Mr. Eden lunched with the officers of the squadron in their mess before flying back to his desk.

Earl of Athlone In Canada in June

LONDON (CP)—Canada has a new Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mother Mary, but the date of his arrival in the Dominion and the question whether he will be able to serve a full, five-year term remain uncertain.

The Earl is the Queen Mother's only surviving brother. His appointment as the personal representative in Canada of King George, his nephew, was disclosed in a brief announcement last night from Buckingham Palace and in a simultaneous announcement in Ottawa by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The Earl of Athlone, who on the 14th of this month will celebrate his 66th birthday, will succeed the late Lord Tweedsmuir, a commoner, son of a Scottish parson, and distinguished author who died in office last February 11 from effects of injuries suffered in a fall.

Mr. King said the new Governor-General would come to Canada as soon as he could wind up his affairs in England, but that it was understood he might not be able to carry on for the full term of five years.

Because of wartime secrecy surrounding trans-Atlantic travel the date of sailing will not be announced. For the same reasons the customary welcome and swearing-in at the port of arrival in Canada will be delayed until His Excellency reaches Ottawa.

In any event the new Governor-General will not reach Canada until some time in June and he will be too late to open Parliament. That ceremony will be conducted by Sir Lyman Duff, Chief Justice of Canada and administrator since the death of Lord Tweedsmuir.

See sketch of the Earl of Athlone's career on Page 15.

Quebec to Appoint Agents-General

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec government plans to assign agents-general to Paris, London, New York, South America and Ottawa, where they will act principally as commercial representatives.

At a stormy sitting of the Legislative Assembly, sitting as committee of the whole, trade minister Oscar Drouin said the government's project embraced three main aims: 1, stimulation of Quebec's tourist industry; 2, stimulation of commerce; 3, attraction of new industries to the province.

British Columbia has one agent-general's office, in London.

Quit Coast Service

SAN DIEGO (AP)—McCormick Steamship Co. will quit its coastal service from San Diego to Columbia River and Puget Sound ports May 1.

Increased operating costs and small tonnage available were given by R. A. Wheeler, agent, as reason for abandoning the weekly service.

Ferry Fare Cut Urged

KELOWNA (CP)—Kelowna Board of Trade has written the department of public works at Victoria urging the single return trip ticket for automobiles on the Kelowna-Westbank ferry be reduced from 75 cents to 50 cents. The board contends the present charge is excessive and a detriment to tourist traffic.

British Ships Score in Attacks On Nazi Subs

PARIS (CP-Havas)—French Admiralty sources revealed today that British naval units within the past 48 hours had made a number of attacks on German submarines, and it is believed most of them were successful.

The Admiralty sources said it was still too early to announce the exact number of sinkings, pending a definite check-up.

Reports also told of intensification of German aerial scouting activity over the North Sea. Air ministry sources here said the Germans sent 20 flights over the North Sea towards the British coast yesterday, the largest number so far in any one day in this zone.

PLANE SHOT DOWN

LONDON (CP)—An air ministry communiqué today said: "While engaged in patrol duties over the North Sea yesterday, Wednesday afternoon, a flying boat of the coastal command of the R.A.F. encountered six enemy aircraft of the Junkers type. One of the latter was shot down and was seen to fall into the sea. The remaining Junkers broke off the engagement and our aircraft resumed patrol."

The flying boat was understood to be a Sunderland.

All the Junkers mentioned in the communiqué are believed to have been of the new JU-88 type. The one bagged was the 53rd German warplane brought down off the British coast since war began.

It was the first flight of the war for a British flying boat. It dropped to 11 feet above the sea to avoid attack from below. One account said that while it fought some of the German planes there, others climbed and dropped bombs—but all missed.

It was believed here that another Junker which crashed near Stavanger, Norway, last night also took part in the air battle in which its sister-ship fell into the sea.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communiqué today said:

"In the northern North Sea and off the British east coast, German fighting planes in the afternoon of April 3 attacked British war vessels, convoys and armed merchant ships."

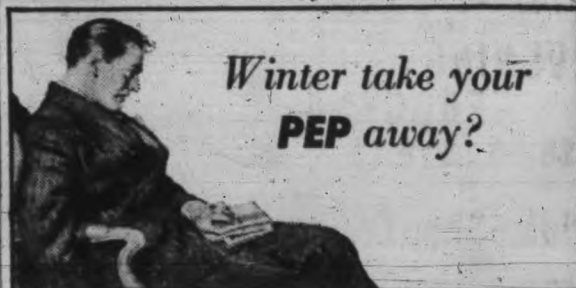

"One destroyer, one outpost boat and two merchant vessels composing a total of 17,000 tons were seriously damaged."

"Three outpost boats and one merchant ship of 5,000 tons were destroyed by fire caused by bombs. One outpost boat and three freighters totalling 17,000 tons were damaged."

"Two German planes made forced landings. The crews were rescued. One plane is missing. One British pursuit plane was shot down in an air fight."

Are you like lots of people who feel "used up" at this time of year? Are you pulled down by little digestive upsets, too? Then—try eating Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast. Scientists say it is the vitamins and the action of fresh yeast together that make it so helpful.

The fresh yeast stimulates slow digestion and speeds up the assimilation of food. Laboratory tests have shown this is an action of the yeast itself—entirely distinct from known vitamin action. The vitamins are needed to maintain steady nerves and keep up vitality. Only in Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast can you get such an abundant supply of the 4 important vitamins, A, B, D and G, and all the vitamins of the amazing Vitamin B Complex.

Eat 2 cakes every day. See if you don't start to climb right out of that winter slump!

2nd Division To Go Into Camp

OTTAWA (CP)—Canvas cities will spring up at half a dozen or more places across Canada next month as members of the Canadian Active Service Force move into camp for summer training. It is understood plans are under way to move all troops in Canada into camp shortly after May 24. Included in the troops moving to camp will be the whole of the Second Division of the Canadian Active Service Force and various units or corps of specialist troops who have been mobilized since the start of the war but not sent overseas.

AIR SCHOOLS SOON

OTTAWA (CP)—Locations of six additional schools for the British Commonwealth air training plans and the carrying on of negotiations regarding buildings and properties for others were announced yesterday by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Defence.

Establishments definitely located are: Elementary flying schools at Lethbridge, Alta., and Windsor, Ont.; a service flying school at Kingston, Ont.; bombing and gunnery schools at Jarvis, Ont., and Mossbank, Sask., an observer school at Regina.

The minister said negotiations were being carried on with the Manitoba government and Brandon City for use of the Brandon winter fair buildings as a training depot; with the Saskatchewan government and the governors of the University of Saskatchewan and Regina College for use of Regina College and Regina Normal School as an initial training school, and with the Alberta government for the Alberta Institute of Technology and the Calgary Normal School as a wireless school.

This is a copy of correspondence incorporated in the recent German White Book, in which it is charged that U.S. Ambassador to Poland William C. Bullitt told Count Jerzy Potocki, Polish Ambassador to Washington, that United States would "undoubtedly participate in later stages of the war." The excerpt above purports to be part of a report, signed by Count Potocki. Mention of Ambassador Bullitt's name is underlined. The photo was released by Nazi censor and radioed from Berlin.

Many Predict Churchill Will Be Britain's Premier

LONDON (CP)—All the armed might of Great Britain became Winston Churchill's to command today.

Riding the crest of that destiny which many predict will carry him to the position of Prime Minister, the plump, pug-nacious foe of Germany finds himself virtual dictator of the army, navy and air force through the third British cabinet shuffle in seven months of war.

Last September 3, just seven hours after war was declared, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called Mr. Churchill from his vocal but comparatively ineffective place in the House of Commons to become First Lord of the Admiralty.

Now the new cabinet shake-up makes Mr. Churchill chairman of the armed services committee, and thus the boss of all war forces, in addition to his Admiralty job.

At 65, Mr. Churchill still is "on the way up" some say, in a career that has been meteoric throughout, and brilliantly so in a short seven months. Should the 71-year-old Prime Minister retire, Britons almost certainly would demand that he hand the keys of No. 10 Downing Street to Mr. Churchill, the popular personification of belligerent John Bull.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

The shift in political fortunes has re-emphasized Mr. Churchill's tremendous hold on the confidence of most of the people.

CALLED BACK

For months before the war began, the public had called for Mr. Chamberlain to bring back the man with the massive head, the flashing blue eyes and pug-nacious features who had a reputation for daring and "getting places."

To them it was incomprehensible that Mr. Churchill, who in turn was head of the Admiralty, Munitions Minister, War Secretary and Air Minister in the 1914-18 conflict, should be on the sidelines.

With delight they heard that "Winston is back."

It was a quarter-century since he had signed the mobilization order for the fleet in 1914, but the enemy across the Channel was the same; Mr. Churchill himself was the same, older but with the same hot fire of personality.

Soon he was on the radio, telling the Germans who had called him Britain's chief "warmonger" that the British-French Allies were in the fight until Adolf Hitler "has had enough."

He told the Empire, "It was for Hitler to say when the war would begin, but it is not for him or his successor to say when it will end."

That was the sort of thing the people wanted to hear, and the sort of thing that Mr. Churchill could say well.

ONE OF SURVIVORS

A bit stouter and more round-shouldered than the dashing young Churchill of 1914, he is one of two survivors of first Great War cabinets still in the government. The other is Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who was Attorney-General in 1914 and Home Secretary in 1915-16.

Basically, Mr. Churchill has not changed much since, when he participated in the Boer War two score years ago, was captured and escaped. The Boers posted the following notice for the fugitive: "Englishman, 25 years old; about five feet eight inches tall; of indifferent build, walks a little with a bend forward; pale appearance; red brownish hair; small mustache hardly perceptible; talks through his nose; cannot pronounce the letter 's' properly; and does not know any Dutch."

The mustache has been the principal casualty of the subsequent years, years in which it has been said that Mr. Churchill has held more offices, served in more wars and practiced more arts than any other man in the Empire.

No Tire Prices Changed in Canada

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—No change in the prices of Canadian tires has been made, George Sawin, general manager of the Goodrich Rubber Company of Canada, said when informed that two Akron, O., rubber companies had announced increases in the prices to automobile manufacturers.

TORONTO (CP)—A. G. Partridge, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Ltd., said increases in tire prices to automobile manufacturers as announced yesterday in Akron, Ohio, did not apply to the Goodyear Company in Canada.

Bioff's Plea Fails

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court has rejected the petition of William Bioff, west coast motion picture labor leader, for a writ of super-seedeas and freedom on bail pending a high-court review of his conviction 18 years ago on a pandering charge.

House to Open Middle of May

OTTAWA (CP)—Statutory formalities surrounding official counting of the civilian and active service force vote in the Dominion election, and possible recounts, make it impossible for Parliament to meet before the second week in May and the opening may be delayed till the third week, Prime Minister MacKenzie King told a press conference.

Meeting Ottawa correspondents for the first time since January, Mr. King asked them to "discount for the present" rumors that cabinet reorganization was pending, and announced he would take a short holiday before meeting Parliament.

The prime minister revealed plans of Defence Minister Rogers to visit England for conferences with British war leaders and an inspection of the Canadian forces.

No details were given of Mr. Rogers' time of departure, but Mr. King said he would be back well in advance of Parliament's opening.

Questioned on the report that parliament might be kept in session indefinitely during the war, Mr. King said "we will leave that to Parliament; Parliament is going to be supreme for a while now."

He said he could not fix the day for opening Parliament definitely, but it would be "probably the second or third week in May." Since the opening is always on Thursday, this would mean May 16 or 23.

It was reported that the vacancy in the cabinet created by the death of Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, will go unfilled for the present. Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, has been Acting Secretary of State, and may be sworn in formally, thus combining the two portfolios.

Italy's 98 provisions registered over 1,037,000 births in 1939 and 586,000 deaths.

An Announcement

McGavin's Bakery takes pleasure in announcing the production of a new loaf . . . ALL-BUTTER Bread, with Malted Milk and Honey.

In creating this new loaf it was our intention to combine in it the finest flavor with the greatest nutritive value. We therefore selected ingredients which would provide the maximum in flavor and nourishment: flour milled from the highest grade of Western Canadian wheat . . . pure, fresh dairy butter . . . malted milk . . . and honey. Butter for richness . . . malted milk for flavorful goodness . . . honey for just a hint of sweetness. This bread is of fine-grained texture and its flavor is unusually pleasing because of the subtle blending of these high quality ingredients.

It is our sincere belief that in our twenty-seven years' experience in bread-baking, this is the finest quality loaf we have ever made.

The ALL-BUTTER Loaf keeps its full-flavored freshness. We promise you'll enjoy it plain and discover a new treat in your toast. Your grocer has it now.

Churchill's Great Chance

NO MORE FITTING REPLY COULD have been given by the British government to the latest series of bombastic outbursts from the Goering-Göbbels-Ley triumvirate than the elevation of Mr. Churchill to a position which, to all intents and purposes, will give him virtual control of policy as it concerns all Britain's armed forces. Vesting this aggressive and experienced statesman with so much authority at this stage of the war's progress—with popular demand for more action manifesting itself daily—would appear to make up for a cabinet reorganization which otherwise is not especially impressive. But the British public has grown accustomed to Mr. Chamberlain's slow and cautious movements; his journalistic friends and parliamentary supporters, however, continue to press him to change his methods. Today, for example, The Times of London says (excepting Mr. Churchill) the new cabinet assignments look like an "elaborate game of push-in-the-corner." The influential daily wants a more compact ministry of not more than half a dozen members.

These matters which no doubt will be worked out as the chairman of the Armed Services Committee—the title of the new body over which the First Lord of the Admiralty is to preside—proceeds with the coordination and general direction of the nation's fighting forces. It would be foolish, of course, to suppose that Mr. Churchill has a ready-made formula calculated to induce the Nazi government to play into the hands of the Allied High Command. But it can be said with a strong degree of certainty that the First Lord's capacity for getting things done, and getting them done at the right time, unquestionably will have a beneficial psychological effect on both British and French peoples. Not that any weakening of the morale in either country has manifested itself under a war condition which, after all, is without parallel. And it may be said here that the Winston Churchill of today is not the Winston Churchill of the Dardanelles and Antwerp. It is the seasoned statesman, mellowed by the events which have influenced his spectacular career and stabilized his mercurial temperament, the statesman who a quarter of a century ago demonstrated the resourcefulness and vision which sealed the fate of the Kaiser's navy.

This new responsibility which has been placed on the shoulders of Mr. Churchill, moreover, revives the speculation of the days preceding the first Great War. Between 1908—when he became President of the Board of Trade in the government formed by Mr. Asquith after the death of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman—and 1914, many politicians were prepared to wager that the Free Trader who had bolted the Conservative party to fight protection would ultimately be presented with the keys of No. 10 Downing Street as his reward for public service. His brilliant start as one of the most important ministers of the war cabinet, however, availed him little in the aftermath. For a year or so he wandered in the political wilderness, calling himself a Constitutionalist—a stepping-stone back to the original Conservative fold—and until a comparatively short time ago he was one of Mr. Chamberlain's bitterest critics. He hated Munich; he hated Hitlerism. And when the Nazi philosophy has been thrown into the discard he may have achieved his life's ambition.

The New Governor-General

MORE THAN A QUARTER OF A CENTURY ago the Earl of Athlone—then Prince Alexander of Teck—had made all arrangements to accept the Governor-Generalship of Canada; but war broke out and the appointment was canceled to enable him to devote himself to military duties—to take part in his third war with British forces. For he had gone through the Matabele War in 1896 and through the South African conflict of 1899-1902.

But the successor to the late Lord Tweedsmuir will not come to Canada credited merely with a distinguished military record. On the contrary, he already has achieved fame as one of the British Empire's most successful pro-consuls, having occupied the position of Governor-General of the Union of South Africa from 1923 until 1931. The fact that he was persuaded to accept a second term at Capetown bears witness not only to his popularity but also to his tact and judgment.

Both the Earl and his gracious consort are well known to the people of Great Britain. Their relations with the royal house, he as the brother of Queen Mary and uncle of the present King, she as daughter of the Duke of Albany and a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, have been emphasized by the allocation of those public duties which furnish many opportunities for personal contact with the plain people. As president of the English Football Association, incidentally, the new Governor-General enjoyed the chance to identify himself with this traditionally-popular sport.

Canadians from the Atlantic to the Pacific will extend a hearty welcome to the Earl and Countess of Athlone and express the hope that before their sojourn at Rideau Hall has ended peace will have been restored and that the British Empire will have emerged victoriously from a distasteful and costly job.

With Russian Oil?

RUSSIAN OIL IS THE CONSIDERATION with which Germany hopes to overcome Italy's distrust of Russia and thus effect a tripartite agreement of Germany, Russia and Italy. Italy has wanted Russian oil, but has not depended upon it because of the precarious route it would have to take across the Black Sea and through the Dardanelles. The theory is that with Poland now out of the way, Russian oil might be routed to Italy by overland means.

Russia has one of the greatest oil reserves in the world, but this unlimited supply has not been reflected in her exports, which have successively declined from 1932 to 1938 as Russia has needed more oil for her domestic consumption. In 1932 Russia's exports were 6,000,000 metric tons; in 1938 they had dwindled to 1,100,000 metric tons. Germany's peacetime oil requirements are 5,000,000 tons; and in wartime to meet the needs of her mechanized army and air force, she needs far more. It is not rash to assume that Russia will consider herself first and that if her trade agreement with the Nazis means anything, she will next think of Germany. Italy's needs would, therefore, receive, at best, tertiary consideration.

If Russia's export figures for 1938 are accepted as a base, then to fulfill her role as dispenser of oil to both Germany and Italy, she will have to increase her production at an immense rate. There is also the problem of transportation which will call for reorganization of the railway systems and additions to rolling stock. Given a couple of years and a free hand, Germany's technicians might be able to accomplish a steady flow of oil, but it is not a task that can be completed in a day. For all the rumors sent out from Berlin, it remains a question whether, for the remote prospect of obtaining Russian oil, Mussolini will see fit to abandon Italy's present policy of belligerent neutrality and move closer to Germany and the Soviets.

Roosevelt Scores Again

ANOTHER MAJOR SENATE TEST found the administration at Washington sustained by a vote of 44 to 38 in its defeat of an amendment to require Congressional approval of future trade agreements. Not all who vote against the administration's policy are opposed to the principle of reciprocal trade treaties. What some low-tariff advocates object to is the renewal of the authority of the President to negotiate and sign such agreements without referring them to Congress beforehand.

The program which Secretary of State Cordell Hull is pursuing is having the effect of widening the scope of United States external trade. Neither he nor the President is in the mood to give way when commodity exchange between nation and nation is more necessary for the neighboring republic now than it has been for many years.

Nor is there any visible proof so far that the authority which the Senate and House of Representatives have renewed for another three years has been, or will be, abused. More trade is the policy's sole objective.

Notes

Savants irritate us. Now another thinks it possible to postpone death indefinitely, but fails to say anything about taxes.

The first volume of the popular-priced edition of "The Oxford Periodical History of the War," by Edgar McNis, Department of History, University of Toronto, is now on the newsstands here. This important work is sponsored by the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. So far as we know, it is the only Canadian contemporary record of events in magazine format. Each volume will run 48 pages, with maps and documents. Other volumes will be published at intervals, to provide a cumulative record for persons attempting to follow intelligently the history of these momentous days.

Total War

From Ottawa Citizen

Actually there is no urgent need for the compulsory enlistment of men to serve with the Canadian expeditionary force. Men are ready to volunteer in far greater numbers than they can be armed or trained or transported abroad. There is no shortage for men to serve as soldiers.

Even though the recruiting began to lag behind the demand for reinforcements, it would be an inadequate policy merely to revive something like the Military Service Act of the last war. Conscription as applied to manpower in this manner is an antiquated term. Under "total war" conditions, the term used in Canadian war loan publicity, the whole nation is at war.

With Germany setting the pace, it has become necessary for the United Kingdom and France equally to mobilize financial resources, industry, shipping, everything needed to wage war to the limit of national capacity under the direction of the government. British women as well as men are serving actively in this total war. They are enlisted as auxiliaries to the military forces; they are working in the essential industries. Millions of British women are being trained for national service, including engineering work. The compulsory enlistment of men to serve as soldiers is simply one part of the national war effort.

The British and French democracies are in advance of Canada, as the pressure of the German challenge has compelled them to be. There can be little doubt, however, as the war goes on, it will become necessary to mobilize the whole power of Canada for national service. War can no longer be waged as a form of private enterprise.

Parallel Thoughts

And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation. St. Luke 22:40.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CELLULOID

THE PICTURE "PINOCCHIO" is, in the distorted judgment of this observer, the best thing that ever came out of celluloid. Better than "Snow White" even, and so much better than nearly all the pictures of living people that you wish, as you leave the theatre, that Mr. Disney would take over North America and convert it into an animated cartoon. You wish that he would change you suddenly to celluloid so that you, too, could begin to enjoy life and to understand it, for the most sensible people in the world are those who exist solely in Mr. Disney's imagination.

"Pinocchio" is not only a good picture. It is a symptom which history may well study; and if this was said about "Snow White" it can be repeated here without danger. It can be repeated too often; indeed, that the popularity of these cartoon fairy tales is one of the most significant facts of life on this continent today.

ESCAPE

A PICTURE LIKE "Pinocchio" is an escape for us all from the most prosperous, most intensely organized and, apparently, the most successful civilization in history. Other movies, distorting current life, offer us some escape from our success, but it is not escape enough. We are finally reduced to flight from current life altogether. We finally flee like children back to fairy stories.

Our ancestors lived their fairy stories. They believed in fairies of all kinds. Magic and miracles were part of daily life. Now we have to create them laboriously, with millions of Mr. Disney's drawings, in Hollywood. But the deep hunger for them remains and grows deeper as we begin to disbelieve in everything but fairy stories.

That is the trouble with America today—a basic disbelief, a bitter disillusionment with all our success. It is a far greater problem than the economic problem. The professors, politicians and economists can argue forever about the basis of our present troubles; they can draw their graphs, explain the lack of capital investment, chart the line of unemployment and devise perfect solutions, but they will never solve anything. The problem is beyond their grasp.

It is a problem of mind and spirit, not of economics. The economic problem, so generally mistaken for the cause, is only the effect of the deeper disturbance. In brief, the people of this continent don't know what they want, and, not knowing that, they are powerless to create a better system, a better life. Travel among them, talk to them in pullman cars, in hamburger joints, in penthouses, in brokers' offices, in Parliament and Congress, north and south of the border, and you will see everywhere bewilderment, confusion, fear.

From it all the people of America, unable to live fairy stories amid their clattering gadgets, rush into a darkened theatre and watch little "Pinocchio" and, if they are like me, they find themselves starting to cry. To cry because a picture like that, a fairy story, makes you realize what we have lost in our thirst for gadgets—all the glitter, the high hope, the trailing clouds of glory that we used to know when we were young, when America was young.

What alternative is there? We do not know, that is our trouble. We do not know what kind of a state we want—hence chaos in politics. We do not know what kind of an economic system we want—hence chaos in economics. We don't know what we believe in any more—hence chaos in religion, education, thought.

WHAT?

WHAT ARE WE trying to do in America? Make more money, acquire more luxuries, live more feverishly and expensively? Or do we want to build more real happiness, more sanity with less useless goods and perhaps with something of the fairy story in our lives? We do not know yet. We have not made our decision. We have not realized yet that there is a decision to make.

The decision will never come from the professors, politicians and economists on whose doors we hammer and scream today. It will never come out of governments, parliaments and congresses. It will come only out of us, if we have the necessary stuff still left in there.

I think it must be in there. It takes little Pinocchio to stir it up for us. Maybe some day Pinocchio will come to life in America.

WAR ADVICE, SEVEN WORDS

D. S. Freeman in Richmond News Leader

Men of short memory and shorter patience are demanding a more vigorous prosecution of the war. Will the dead be given leave to speak from the grave? They have one answer to all the insistence upon rash offensives. It is compressed into seven words: Do not attack until you are ready.

TO SHELLEY

We stand too much afflicted of our time; Of minds impinged upon impending doom; Irreverent unimportance has no room. To breathe, or take its place in gentle rhyme. Gone is the spell of little things that smile Through sudden mist, as lamps lit in the street;

The conscious gaiety when old friends meet; The dying art of wishing dreams worth while. What time to mark the spell of wild birds flying.

The fresh green laughter of the leaves in Spring; And who can make of ageless youth a king With so much thought of rights of man, of dying?

Too faint I see the skylark against the blue, And hear the breathless whispering of you.

CUMBERSOME DEMOCRACY

IT TOOK CANADA 55 days to obtain a new Parliament. Long before the end of the election everything that could possibly be said to state the case of the various candidates and parties had been said so often that most people refused to put themselves in a position where they might have to listen to it again. There was less speech-making by the big leaders than in any other campaign in memory. Yet, in spite of that, it was far too long.

Had this war been like previous wars whole nations might have crumbled, and vast revolution staged, before Canada completed the too-cumbersome process of renewing her parliamentary representation. The actual mechanics of this election were less clumsy than they used to be. But in my opinion the whole process could be simplified and streamlined, both to reduce the cost of taking the vote and to reduce the amount of inconvenience there is to the voters in casting their ballots.

I cannot see why all voters should not have the right to vote at any time between nomination day and election day. After the candidates are once officially registered there is no reason why any elector should not cast his vote through the same channels as the soldier voters used in the election just over. The double envelope system preserves the secrecy of the ballot, and also prevents impersonations as effectively as impersonation can be prevented.

IT SEEMS TO ME that a few centres might be set aside in the next general election to test out a dual system of voting. Those who wanted to vote as they have always done could do so. But those who wanted to go to some central office and obtain their ballots, mailing same in advance of the final poll could do that. The only change that would seem necessary to me from the method of taking the soldiers' vote was that all mailed ballots should be in before the actual election day.

Under our present system thousands of students, travellers, and others who happen to be away from home, are disfranchised. I met men on the prairies who drove 1,000 miles, and lost several days' pay, because they were interested enough in the election to go home to vote. This need not be. We do not apply a fraction of the common sense to our political processes as we do to any modern business enterprise.

THERE IS ANOTHER aspect to the question which greatly interests me. The necessity for campaign funds, and the corruption which so often surrounds campaign funds, centres about a very simple fact: That is that the practice of politicians have found by bitter experience that about the hardest part of any election is to get the voters out on election day. I cannot speak from personal knowledge in the west. But I do know that any candidate in any eastern Canadian city riding who does not have from 100 to 300 cars working all day almost literally to drag the voters to the polls does not have a chance to be elected, even though the majority of the electors in the riding might be quite willing to vote for him if they ever did happen to get there.

It is easy to say that if the voters are too downright lazy to take the trouble to get themselves to the polls they do not deserve the vote anyway, and that if democracy is so rotten that such is the way it works, let it go anyway. The real question is: What other system has ever worked so well, and could not the little inefficiencies of democracies be checked up and wiped out if we were willing to take the pains?

LORD HAW, HAW

To the Editor:—I was very surprised to learn from your paper that the so-called "Lord Haw, Haw" is none other than William Joyce.

I once had the opportunity of hearing him expound the case for Fascism at Reading, England.

It may interest your readers to know that at that meeting he emphasized the fact that he was Irish, not English, and claimed that his father was killed and his property destroyed by Irish rebels. This may well account for his present activities.

Incidentally, at one time he had Communist leanings, and it was at one of their meetings that he made the mistake of asking a question. I do not know what that question was, but the scar on the right cheek is the result of a razor in the hands of a comrade who did not approve of it. BERTAM BARNETT. "Mount Edwards."

ALAS FOR AN ILLUSION!

From St. Louis Post-Dispatch

These are the times that try men's souls. . . . The Netherlands, we felt, could always be counted on to fill the breach and stem the tide. The prototype of this spirit was the boy who saved his country by plugging the hole in the dike with his finger—that cold night so long ago. But now . . .

a dispatch from The Hague reports that the Dutch never heard of this lad, much less raised a monument in his honor. He exists only in McGuffey's Fifth Reader, beside the boy who stood on the burning deck.

Will these debunkers leave us nothing?

SUCCESS STORY

From B.C. Financial News

We can absolutely vouch for this story, because it occurred in the Financial News and Mitchell Printing office.

The printing department manager looked up one day from his desk to see a young ill-dressed individual regarding him quizzically. What could he do for him? "Well, mister," the visitor replied, "I'd like to wash your windows."

A glance at the windows confirmed the fact that a spot of laundering was in order.

"How much do you want for the job?"

"Fifty cents."

"Okay, hop to it."

The young man seemed slightly embarrassed.

"Well, mister, I'd sure like to do those windows, and I could make a swell job of them, but I haven't any pail or sponge."

"So what?"

"Well, could you let me have 50 cents in advance to buy them?"

It looked bad, but the job printing manager had something in common with Steve Brodie. If this man's story was a build-up for a "gyp," it was at least original. He gave him 50 cents.

In 20 minutes back came the would-be window cleaner with a pail and sponge and in an hour the windows were clean and shining.

That was some years ago. Today the young man has a janitor service, employs three men with cars at the same work and has a comfortable income.

One book at a time, fully savored, will bring the reader the most lasting enjoyment. — Mrs. David Hays, literary critic.

Your Breakfast ought to make you say BOY! THIS MAKES MY MOUTH WATER

...or you won't get the food values you need!

These days there are three things breakfast ought to do, if you're to keep on top of your form: First, it must be tempting enough to wake your sleepy appetite. Second, it must release quickly the energy you need to start "in high." Third, it must help sustain you for hours. Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the answer! They're proven first in flavour! And they're jam-packed with carbohydrate energy. Time-saving, too! 30 seconds and they're ready, with no messy pots to clean. Order several packages tomorrow. And when you breakfast out, ask for the wax-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

FLAVOUR EXPERTS SAY what housewives have always known, that Kellogg's Corn Flakes are first for flavour—Canada's most popular ready-to-eat cereal. In a recent Dominion-wide survey, housewives were asked: "What ready-to-eat cereal is the favourite in your family?" Kellogg's Corn Flakes were named first choice more than FIVE TIMES as often as the next brand of corn flakes. After a blindfold test of all four brands of corn flakes, John A. White, Chief Taster of the Chateau Cheese Company, declared: "I certainly had no difficulty in picking the sample which had the finest flavour. . . . the sample which later proved to be Kellogg's."

ECONOMICAL, TOO! Canada's favourite cereal costs only a few pennies for the whole family's breakfast, or supper. Have you tried the new family-size package? Ask your grocer to-morrow.

South Africa's Men of Destiny

South Africa's "men of destiny"—Kruger, Botha, Rhodes, Smuts and Hertzog—formed the subject of an interesting public address given last night in the Empress Hotel ballroom, under National Council of Education auspices, by Bernard O. Schonegevel, widely known South African and former mayor of King Williams-town.

Mr. Schonegevel briefly traced the careers of each of these five, told the highlights of their lives and what they had done for South Africa.

Jan Smuts, the present Prime Minister, he said, was on the bridge of the ship of state, was steering it courageously through troubled waters. He in particular, was South Africa's "man of destiny," the speaker said.

Hertzog, he said, was a man most involved in speech and illogical in mind who was now paying the penalty for his foolishness. But he was a man of ability, but he was shortsighted.

He lived in the past and, perhaps, was really not anti-British, only anti-war.

Mr. Schonegevel dealt with the British Empire in general and said that wherever the Union Jack flew, there was freedom and justice, although he admitted England had made mistakes in the past, but that when the ledger was opened the credits were much larger than the debits.

HOLDS TOGETHER

How the Empire was got together was not as important as how it was held together, he said.

Hitler's challenge was not only to the British Empire and France, he said, but to freedom and "we are fighting, not only to save ourselves, but to be free from aggression, for the freedom of the individual, to be free of persecution."

This, he said, did not mean the destruction of Germany, but the destruction of Hitlerism, but it was time people realized that in war bouquets could not be thrown to the German people and bombs at Hitler. The people of Germany must be fought, he said.

"If we play our part manfully, with the determination that is worthy of us, we shall indeed hasten the day of peace," he said, adding the war was a disaster for Europe, but for Germany it was suicide.

Mr. Schonegevel upheld Prime Minister Chamberlain's trips to Germany in 1938. The 12 months gained at Munich, enabling Great Britain to prepare herself were the 12 months that will save civilization.

He said he had seen Mr. Chamberlain in the British Commons many times and "every time he speaks he seems younger, more vigorous."

Albert Sullivan, secretary of the local branch of the National Council introduced Mr. Schonegevel, who was thanked by Dr. T. A. Rickard.

Following the lecture, attended by about 125 persons, Mr. Schonegevel and his wife were guests of honor at a reception at "Molton Combe," the Newport Avenue home of Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson.

CITY REFUND ACT RULING APPROVED

The decision of the Court of Appeal of British Columbia, declaring the Victoria City Debt Refunding Act of 1937 valid, has been quoted and approved by the Privy Council, it was learned here today as legal students studied the 1940 Western Weekly Reports.

The court here held the act was in the nature of moratorium legislation, and therefore within the powers of the British Columbia legislature.

The Victoria act came up for consideration in connection with the appeal on the Province of Alberta Guaranteed Securities Interest Act of 1937. Judgment of the Privy Council, delivered by Viscount Caldecote, Lord Chancellor, on March 4, declared invalid the reduction of interest on debentures guaranteed by the province from 6 to 3 per cent.

An extract from the judgment follows: "The decision of the Court of Appeal of British Columbia in Day vs. Victoria City, 1938, 53 B.C.R. 140; 3 W.W.R. 161, holding the Victoria City Debt Refunding Act, 1937, ch. 77, intra vires of the provincial legislature, was also cited as a case in which it was held permissible for a provincial legislature to pass an act relating to interest. On examination the decision is found to give no support to the appellants' argument. The act there in question did not purport to be an act relating generally to interest, and while some of its provisions dealt with interest as an incident effecting the general object of the enactment, it was held, rightly as their Lordships think, not to be an act in relation to interest or to conflict with the Dominion Interest Act."

Peppas Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you used to—feel about as healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

DANCERS FEATURED AT LODGE FROLIC

A gala night of entertainment, games and dancing, sponsored by the Capital City Lodge No. 35, Pythian Sisters and Capital City Lodge No. 61, Knights of Pythias, was held at the Crystal Garden on Tuesday night. Proceeds from the affair were substantial and will be donated to the Queen Alexandra Solarium fund.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was a Klondike Frolic in which games, of chance were played under the direction of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Kharassan Tel El Mahuta, Temple No. 155, with Royal Prince J. J. Stewart in charge.

Entertainment was provided by pupils of the Florence Clough Academy of Dancing, who appeared during the evening in several colorful numbers. Pupils who appeared in these feature attractions were: Thelma Hawkins, Rhoda Leeman, Theresa Leah, Kathleen Burns, Frances Borde, Flossie Ray, Velda Wille and Theresa Perkins. They were featured in a Hungarian dance and later appeared as a chorus for the Swingettes, which was harmonized by the Sanderson twins.

Bob Wormleighton appeared in an exhibition of tap dancing and Davida Webb and Philip Bond gave an exhibition of the rumba and tango.

Dave Stewart was chairman of the Committee in charge of arrangements, which included: Most excellent chef, Mrs. Thomas Crabbe; chancellor commander, Jack Imrie; Mesdames Thomas Atkinson, Curtis, Clunk, Bob Douglas and George Bishop and Bert Longhurst.

Centennials Win Major Laurels in Drama Festival

Mythical crowns adorn the heads of individual members of the Centennial Young People's drama group today as a result of their triumph in the two-night sixth annual drama festival of the Victoria and Lower Island Young People's Union, which came to a conclusion last night.

For their presentation of "Orchids for Marie" the Centennials were announced as champions among lower island young people's societies' drama teams last night and won possession of the cherished J. W. Spencer Cup, emblematic of the honors. It is quite probable the Centennial group will now prepare themselves for entry in the provincial and Greater Vancouver Drama Festival next year.

The announcement by H. S. Hurn, adjudicator of the festival, last night that Centennial Y.P.S. had won the championship was greeted with loud applause by the packed auditorium at Central Junior High School. Approximately 300 persons attended. A. M. D. Fairbairn, who has an enviable record as a dramatist, presented the trophy to the two principals of the winning team, Alfred Kerley and Eleanor Brooke.

Mr. Hurn awarded runner-up honors to the Belmont group for their presentation of a religious drama, "The Gift," a difficult play put over exceedingly well by amateur performers, staged last night.

Three plays were presented last night. The First United

Y.P.S. presented a comedy, "Someone for Bunny," which was very capably enacted, Glennys Hale, Arthur Ridland and Ted Myers giving fine performances. Centennials repeated "Orchids for Marie," but were judged on their performance of the previous night. The cast took heed of the adjudicator's criticisms of the night before and the result was a smoother and clearer show.

Before opening his remarks on the performances, Mr. Hurn pointed out that his criticisms were only for the purpose of illustrating where improvement could be made. He admitted the First United play had its fine points, but it lacked the sparkle needed in a comedy of this nature—centred around the securing of a girl friend for Bunny (Ted Myers), a young man "who had great control over the seething emotions within himself." It was too slow and subdued, thus losing effect. Tempo should have been better regulated.

Glennys Hale and Arthur Ridland, who were trying to find Bunny a girl friend he would like, "had poise and gave fairly commendable performances," the adjudicator said. Rita Millhouse (Susie), the girl who finally became Bunny's heart's desire, "had a poor entrance. She started off well, but faded." In regard to Bunny, Mr. Hurn said: "It was a peculiar part to play, but he acted with considerable restraint, which was commendable." Eileen Hannah (Irene), a girl who tried to interest Bunny in, was the other member of the cast. She was quite good.

Of the Belmont Biblical play, "The Gift," Mr. Hurn said the enunciation was the best he had heard in the festival. The cast spoke clearly, but at the same time quietly. "However, there was a lack of variety. Instead of being built up to a great climax when the crippled boy, Joel, played by Helen McLellan, is cured by Jesus, the play stayed more on an even level."

Continuing, he said: "On the whole it was a splendid performance, a play with a fine spiritual uplift."

He praised Miss McLellan for her polished acting. "Her voice was good and her general work was fine. My only criticism is she should have put more enthusiasm into the climax." Bruce McLellan, Douglas Bailey, Norma Fitzsimmons, Helen Parker and Arthur Zala composed the remainder of the cast.

Mrs. Fairbairn presented the prizes to poster competition winners. Mary Loudoun was chairman.

Set Record for Tourist Travel

An all-time record in the number of American cars visiting Victoria during the first three months of a year, was established this year according to officials of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau today.

Though monthly figures released by G. A. Yardley, collector of customs, the bureau was able to show where tourist business for January, February and March of 1940, was substantially increased over the same period last year.

During the three months ending March 31, Canadian custom officials at Victoria and Sidney handled 749 cars with foreign licenses carrying 1,630 tourists, compared to 604 cars carrying 1,387 passengers last year. This is a 24 per cent increase in cars and 17 per cent in passengers.

A survey of figures of previous years showed 1940 figures of travel to this port exceeded all others.

This early influx of visitors, officials point out, is another indication that travel in this direction this year will surpass all other years.

OTTAWA MAY SLASH GRANTS ON RELIEF

Reports from Ottawa that the federal government plans to slash its expenditure on unemployment relief have not yet been the subject of official communications to the provincial government, but the move is not entirely unexpected, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, said today.

Mr. Hart said the province will co-operate fully with the federal authorities in its effort to cut down the costs but until he has details of their proposed plans could not say what the province will do to adjust its own position.

Ottawa reports indicate the federal government may cut its relief contribution in half. At the present time Ottawa pays 40 per cent of the bill, the province 40 per cent and cities 20 per cent.

Before and since war broke out relief expenditures in British Columbia have been gradually dropping with the reduction in the number of people requiring help. This, in itself, constitutes quite a saving to the different governments.

Until the city is given definite instructions on any change in financial contributions by federal and provincial governments in respect to relief costs, Victoria will sit tight, Mayor Andrew McGavin said today.

"We will continue our present policies until we are notified of a definite change," Mayor McGavin stated. He interpreted reports on proposed changes to be strong indications of a move to reduce costs of relief.

"I anticipate a natural reduction in relief costs through stimulation of industry generally within the next six months," the mayor said. "As yet the disrupting forces of warfare have largely outweighed any improvement in employment that might be expected from the increased productive activity required by war. However, the difficulties which have sprung up to curtail certain industrial output should be straightened out within the next few months and extra war work should extend the demand for manpower. If that theory is correct the numbers drawing relief should be pretty well reduced to those unable to work owing to physical or other disabilities. Assistance will continue for that class."

The mayor remarked no change had been made in the estimated expenditure for the relief department when the city budget was passed last month.

"There were strong indications at that time that a shake-up might occur in the welfare financing by the superior governments. On that ground, no reductions were made in the amount earmarked for relief," he continued.

The mayor looked with favor upon reports to the effect that federal assistance is contemplated in a move to re-equip idle workmen for participation in their former trades. Several, through enforced idleness, have fallen behind in their chosen fields of activity, but could be restored to production through refresher courses, he believed.

Cites Case for Parking Changes

Differences of opinion over the advisability of adopting parking changes which he proposes in a lengthy schedule, today prompted Chief of Police J. A. McLellan to quote reasons for the alterations he suggested. Only a small portion of the changes were adopted by the City Council yesterday.

The chief felt the public had not been fully apprised of both sides of the parking problem, having heard chiefly from its opponents.

"In Victoria, like all other cities, the use of public street space for parking has become a major issue in traffic control," he said. "Uncontrolled parking breeds street congestion and slows up traffic."

"So far as possible, the right of vehicles to the use of a public street should be granted in the following order of importance: To moving vehicles, to vehicles loading or unloading passengers or merchandise, and to parked cars."

"A few parked cars can obstruct, and even endanger, hundreds of moving vehicles. A car parked is performing a less important economic service to its owner or operator than either of the first two. It is entitled to consideration only if it does not interfere unreasonably with the movement of traffic. A good solution of the parking problem is to the advantage not only of motorists but of merchants also. The prosperity of a business district depends largely upon the ease with which it can be reached by customers."

"Where traffic in a district is congested because of improper parking, customers will shop elsewhere, and business may be decentralized—a costly result for the merchants. Business men frequently believe that parking restrictions hinder business, but the opposite, if anything, is true. Moving vehicles, rather than parked cars, bring business to a commercial area."

"In any attempt to evaluate street uses, the common carrier should be recognized as the most important transportation unit with which to deal, because the common carrier serves so many more people for the amount of street space used than does the private car."

"In a business district four factors control the parking situation, namely, the maximum street area required to move traffic, the demand for parking space by short-time parkers and long-time parkers, available curb and off-street parking space and the available police to enforce restrictions."

Public Interest In Shoe Craft

"National Shoe Check-Up Week" which is being celebrated this week by shoe repair shops has stimulated the public interest in the modern methods of shoe repairing, according to the leading shoe repairmen of the city.

The public is taking advantage of this event in having the new and modern methods of repairing explained by the repairmen. Many people realize now that comfortable shoes which formerly may have been considered useless and discarded may now be scientifically repaired and refitted by these up-to-date craftsmen. Among the interesting developments of the craft is the re-sizing of shoes, making them longer, wider, shorter or narrower. Even the close-toe styles may be opened and changed to another trend, vamps may be lowered to prevent pinching and gaping at the sides properly corrected, in fact some shoes may be completely redesigned. Most shops maintain or have available a dyeing service where shoes can be expertly dyed to suit any shade in midday's wardrobe.

No Labor Shortage On Shipbuilding

No immediate shortage of labor exists for handling shipbuilding contracts in Victoria, W. G. Stope of the government employment office said today.

He said a system of registering artisans available for war industries has been carried on throughout the employment service.

As men are required the service will first take those on the island, then if there is a shortage will go to the British Columbia clearing house.

"We are able to handle the situation all right at present," Mr. Stope said. "What may happen a few months from now, of course, we don't know."

Bid Farewell to Church Leader

Presbyterian Church leaders of Victoria and district, including ministers, elders and managers of various churches in the Presbytery of Victoria, yesterday honored Rev. Dr. Stuart C. Parker, moderator, at a luncheon in Spencer's dining room which preceded his departure for Vancouver.

Rev. W. F. Gold, Rev. Samuel Lundie and J. A. Kenedy were among those who paid tribute to Dr. Parker's work and the benefits of his brief visit to Victoria. Rev. Peter McNabb, Presbytery moderator, presided.

Dr. Parker expressed his thanks, reiterating his appeal for renewed effort by church workers to bring about the lasting peace desired by the world.

W.M.S. Conference Branch Meets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reports of the past year's work of the British Columbia Conference branch of the United Woman's Missionary Society were delivered at the annual meeting of the branch which opened in Chown Memorial Church yesterday.

REPORTS GIVEN

Reports presented yesterday included that of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. P. Davidson. There are 108 auxiliaries, 38 evening auxiliaries and 27 affiliated societies, an increase of two. Total membership is 3,756, an increase of 83.

Younger groups are becoming more interested in missionary work, said Mrs. Davidson, and all groups were taking up study more actively. A supplementary five-year plan was suggested, dealing with spiritual living.

The treasurer's statement, presented by Mrs. W. W. Creelman, showed receipts of $31,268. The sum of $30,750 had been sent to the Dominion treasurer.

Gifts were arranged for special objects including support of a cot at Burns Lake Hospital, a Bible woman in China and one in India, an African girl, a native Chinese worker, an evangelist in India, and a boy in India, for education of a boy in India, work at Crosby Girls' Home, relief work in China and Christian work in Japan.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

At the opening sessions on Tuesday evening, Dr. W. G. Black suggested a combination of a federal union of states and the League of Nations to deal with the problems which will face the world after the war.

The trouble during the past, Dr. Black declared, has not been the machinery of the League but the way it has been misused by nations, both foolishly and for their own selfish aims.

The great need for such a far-flung organization is some strong bulwarks, such as federal unions. After the war there should be more stress on the various departments of the League such as the international labor office, international bank, health bureau, etc., Dr. Black thinks.

Oaklands P.T.A. Study-Group met recently at the home of Mrs. Robert McInnis, 1554 Gladstone Avenue, the subject for study being "Habits and How to Deal With Them." Papers read by Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Foxall and Mrs. McInnes were followed by a discussion. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Blair, 1364 Hillside Avenue, on Tuesday, April 9, at 2.30 p.m.

ASH-LEVI

VANCOUVER—Before a fireplace banked with flowers, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Levi, 4088 Marguerite Avenue, Dora Levi became the bride of Frederick N. Ash of Victoria, Rabbi M. Berner of Victoria officiating.

Gowning in a Molyneux model of white silk net, silver embroidered, over satin, with halo of mother of pearl and orange blossoms, and short Brussels net veil, and carrying gardenias and white carnations, the bride was attended by a sextette of prettily-frocked maids.

Matrons of honor were her sisters, Mrs. L. B. Helman in orchid silk net over taffeta and Mrs. Max Arenott in apple green. Both wore corsages of roses. Bridesmaids were her two unmarried sisters, Misses Pauline and Evelyn Levi, in Scarlet O'Hara net frocks, the former's turquoise, the latter's rose. They also wore roses.

Flower girls were Fae and Sharon Goryon of Bellingham, in net period frocks, the former's pastel blue, the latter's yellow, and carrying baskets of flowers. Mr. H. L. Mallek of Victoria supported Mr. Ash, and Messrs. Max Arenott, L. B. Helman, Harry and Manuel Levi ushered. Wedding music was played by Miss Jennie Albhouse of Victoria.

Dinner was served to 100 guests, including out-of-towners from Winnipeg, Victoria, Bellingham, Seattle and Crescent Beach, and many more attended a reception following.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Levi wore a Schiaparelli model of tulle lace and corsage of roses. Mrs. M. Brill of Victoria, aunt of the groom, was in Queen's blue, and another aunt, Mrs. I. L. Halparin of Winnipeg, in black French lace. All wore corsages of roses.

For a wedding trip to Seattle and motoring on the island, the bride changed to a black ensemble with silver foxes.

Does Everybody Know This?

asks Mary Blake

A friend said, "Don't waste your advertising space telling about Carnation Milk for creaming coffee. Everybody knows that."

I wonder if everybody does know what a great difference using Carnation Milk makes to coffee—gives it a tempting, golden-brown colour—brings out the full, smooth, rich flavour. Try it!

What Carnation does for coffee, it does for all creaming—on cereals, in cream soups and sauces, in ice cream—in fact in every dish in which it is used.

The heat treatment and homogenization which make Carnation Milk safe and smoothly creamy also make it much more digestible as an infant food. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

There are glorified recipes of all kinds in the beautifully illustrated de luxe Carnation Cook Book—15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbot St., Vancouver, B.C.

Evacuees Grateful To 'Dear Ladies Of Canada'

"Dear Ladies of Canada."

The title above is that given by the young evacuees in Great Britain to the Daughters of the Empire in Canada, in the letters which they have written to thank them for the warm clothing and blankets sent by that organization, which is perhaps better known by the initials I.O.D.E. Hundreds of bales of new clothing and blankets were sent in response to the appeal of Lady Reading, who is in charge of the Women's Voluntary Services for Civil Defence in Great Britain.

The I.O.D.E. collected and shipped this clothing overseas for these young people, hundreds of whom had no clothing other than that which they were wearing when they left home, and with no means of securing more owing to the exigencies of the war and other financial difficulties. From the different parts of England where the clothing and blankets have been distributed, have come hundreds of letters from the distributors and from the children themselves expressing gratitude for benefits received.

CHILDISH DELIGHT

These letters, addressed to the national president of the I.O.D.E., or, in the case of children, to "The Ladies of Canada," include the following from a lady in Dumbartonshire to whom several children from Clydebank were sent:

"I wish some of you could have been here, to see the children's pride and delight when they saw the garments sent by you. . . . They have been quick to feel the romance of it too—getting things from so far away. They keep wondering if the ladies who sent them the bright-colored jerseys and the warm snow-boots, have bairns of the same age in their own families. They think they must have, otherwise the sizes would never have been so exactly right."

"What a lot of kind thought was sent with the things—we feel it and we do appreciate it. . . . I have nine children billeted on me, so I can speak about evacuation! They range in age from three to 14 years—girls and boys. We hadn't even beds for them at first, and they slept in rows on mattresses laid on the floor until the camp beds arrived. The youngest is the only one who does not go to school. This tot had a long list of things that she 'dinna ken' . . . that she couldn't bite ye . . . that she could get rinnin' over the grass . . . that she could get an egg for breakfast."

"I weigh them every month, and take great delight in the pounds that they have gained. We are looking forward to the spring, longing for it and yet dreading what the better weather may bring to all of us. But we will go forward with better courage to meet what lies before us knowing that you in Canada are thinking of us and minding about us."

10,000 Books Collected By I.O.D.E. for Forces

TORONTO (CP)—Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire have provided 10,000 books for the use of the Canadian armed forces. Mrs. C. H. Wilson, war service convener, reported yesterday at a national executive meeting.

British Columbia chapters had collected 8,000 books, while 1,700 were distributed in Nova Scotia and to ships of the British and Canadian navies. There was a growing demand for books on technical subjects.

Announcement of four new chapters was made. They include the Susan Grosvenor, named for Lady Tweedsmuir, at St. Walburg, Sask.

Newest group among the thousands of girls across Canada who are learning the intricacies of motor mechanics are the 10 girls who started their course at Urquhart Motors in Toronto. Under the guidance of Harold Ego, assistant foreman of the garage, they were given their introduction to the precision with which motor parts are built. Shot in Air Makes Beer Drinkers Scream.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eugene Valente pleaded not guilty in Assize Court today to a charge of unlawful possession of an offensive weapon arising from a shot fired in a beer parlor.

Tony Borsato, proprietor, however, swore he "thought at first it was just firecrackers."

"There was screaming," he said. "I saw a man pointing a gun in the air. I took the gun away and put it in my pocket."

Cross-examined, Borsato said he was not certain if it was Valente from whom he took the gun.

STOCKHOLM (CP-Havas)—The Soviet government is demanding that Finland leave its new frontier entirely unfortified and ungarrisoned, the Stockholm-Tidningen reported today from Moscow.

The Soviet demands on the Finnish delegation now in the Soviet capital—their presence there has gone unreported by the Soviet press, the Tidningen said—were summarized in the dispatch as follows:

1. That Finland shall undertake to enter into no defensive Nordic alliance.
2. That it demilitarize its new frontier, removing all troops from the border zone by this summer.
3. That it refrain from building a new Mannerheim Line.
4. That it engage at once in construction of a railway from Kandalaksha and Kemijarvi.
5. That all press attacks on the Soviet Union in Finland be made to cease.

With the Forces

Inspector-General
Sees Troops Here

Troops on duty and in training on the lower end of Vancouver Island will undergo inspection during the next week, following the arrival of Major-General E. C. Ashton, Inspector-General of the forces in western Canada.

Major-General Ashton arrived today from the mainland. He will spend a week or so in this area. Besides seeing the troops in action he is expected to visit the forts and other military defences around Victoria.

Major-General Ashton was formerly the district officer commanding here.

Recruits who have been in training at Work Point for the last six weeks will complete their course on Saturday. The latest embryo soldiers have been slogging hard through the routine of physical and gun drill, tactics and battle practice.

A new wrinkle in the training of fighting forces is instruction in psychology. When the Canadian Legion War Services opened classes in Vancouver the other night 30 fliers at the Jericho air station attended a lecture on this subject by Dr. J. M. Ewing, of the Provincial Normal School. Why do they want to learn psychology? Some because they are looking to the future, after the war. Others because when they become officers want to understand human nature.

Rumors that the new battle dress of the British and Canadian forces may be done away with have created quite a to-do in other parts of Canada. A cable commentator reported that the war office intended to restore the old buttoned tunic as being both warmer and smarter than the comfortable blouse and skirts which are the general issue. Writing in the Winnipeg Free Press, "H.M." says this would amount to withdrawing the new tunic almost before it has been issued.

He notes that it is neat and easily kept, with no brass buttons to shine. But, he adds, it is not warm unless stuffed with sweaters. Reports from London say tests have shown that the long plus-fours collect mud and that the top half of the romper suits tends to ride to the centre of the back, exposing a vulnerable area over the kidneys to the winter blasts.

PARIS (AP)—Premier Paul Reynaud, the future of his government in doubt unless he gains great political support, this evening agreed to general debate of his policies in the Chamber of Deputies after a secret Senate session April 9 holds a similar discussion.

Political sources said they told him he must resign unless he gains larger majority than the 22-vote margin given him March 22.

Test for Reynaud

Political sources said they told him he must resign unless he gains larger majority than the 22-vote margin given him March 22.

The Saskatchewan Association, composed of prairie people who are anxious to see hockey games revived in this city, have offered to stage a dance on behalf of the arena drive, officials announce.

Cabinet Shuffle
On Narrow Basis,
Says British Press

LONDON (CP)—Hard-hitting Winston Churchill climbed into the driver's seat of the British war machine today with a big share of the job of forcing the pace to win.

A new shake-up in Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's wartime cabinet puts the duties of chief war strategist on the shoulders of the First Lord of the Admiralty. He will be chairman of the Service Ministers' Committee—including the Admiralty, War and Air Ministries.

Press reaction to the new cabinet set-up ranged from the Daily Herald's brickbat, "futile," to The Times' more subtle comment that it "is not calculated, and perhaps was not intended, to arouse any great enthusiasm."

For the most part the new cast is the same as the old, only in different roles, and in several cases the changes were mere swaps. One cartoonist pictured it as a game of musical chairs, with Chamberlain playing the tune.

The only new blood in the ministerial family is in the food ministry where Lord Woolton, the former Sir Frederick Marquis, an industrialist experienced in government trade and supply operations, succeeds W. S. Morrison.

The only minister missing from the new alignment is Lord Chatfield, dropped by the dissolution of the Ministry for Co-ordination of Defence.

THREE REFORMS

Primarily, Mr. Chamberlain achieved three reforms in the cabinet:

1. Endowing Mr. Churchill with almost unchallenged mastery over the fighting services as head of the armed services committee including the Admiralty, War and Air Ministries.

2. Putting Sir John Simon and Sir Kingsley Wood in almost the same category on the home fronts.

3. Cutting down the war cabinet from nine to eight ministers by cutting out the Ministry for Co-ordination of Defence.

The Times, remarked that the new cabinet assignments looked like an "elaborate game of puss-in-corner" and reiterated its plea for a more compact war cabinet of no more than half a dozen members.

TEA PARTY CHANGES

The Daily Herald, Labor, said the nation had demanded "a thorough spring cleaning of the Cabinet" and Mr. Chamberlain answered "with a feeble flick of a duster."

"Once again," it said, "he borrows the technique of the mad hatter's tea party. Leading characters move solemnly from one chair to the next while the public, like Alice, looks on bewildered."

"Once again the Prime Minister, either from lack of imagination or a surfeit of complacency, has thrown away an opportunity for a full-scale cabinet reconstruction."

The demand for a "real war Cabinet" will grow, commented the London Daily Mail, "and it is bound to be granted, if the war drags on. Victory will not come easily if it continues to be directed by a council of tired men."

The London Daily Express, Independents, said: "What can be said about these changes? They are all to the good. But there are not enough of them. There are still men in the government who ought to be out of it."

NO ENTHUSIASM

The News Chronicle, Liberal, said:

"The changes which Mr. Chamberlain has made in his ministry will not arouse any enthusiasm. So long as there is no broadening of basis of the government—and neither of the oppositions is prepared to serve under Mr. Chamberlain—the most we can expect to see is old faces in new places."

The Daily Telegraph, Conservatives, said: "It may be assumed with confidence that the Prime Minister would have willingly undertaken a larger reconstruction of the government. . . . But the Socialist Party is bound by vote of its conference not to take share in any government."

"That is the unanswerable reason for his preference on this occasion for exchanges and promotions rather than complete reconstruction."

THAW DELAYS
OIL EQUIPMENT

Movement of oil-drilling equipment to Compton Creek in the Peace River District where the government will drill for oil this summer has been temporarily delayed by a sudden thaw, Hon. W. J. Asseltine, Minister of Mines, was advised today.

Contractors have been moving 325 tons of freight from the crossing of Pine River to the site selected for drilling on Compton Creek, a distance of 35 miles. It is being freighted over a winter road and the break in the weather has made further progress difficult.

Officials in charge are hoping for another freeze so that they can rush the equipment through. They are now 12 miles from their destination.

If frost does not come they will have to start building the permanent road to the site and this may mean some delay in the commencement of drilling operations, which was expected about May 1.

Canadian Vote
Reply to Berlin

"The tremendous verdict which came from this great Canada, with endorsement of the national war effort in the general election, must have had deep repercussions in Berlin," said Bernard O. Schonegevel, a native of South Africa, who addressed the Rotary Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel today.

In a brief review of the British Empire's system of colonization, the speaker told how the Statute of Westminster had cast aside the bonds of imperialism and Britain had renounced all rights of government over her dominions.

"That Statute of Westminster to me is a frail silken cord which binds us far more closer than could the stoutest chain," he said.

Hitler would find this out, Mr. Schonegevel said, as he came across the perils which awaited him on his path after being so foolish as to think the Dominions would forget the past as the result of their present-day freedom. The speaker likened England's part in the war to an old grandfather clock which ticked on steadily through the weeks, years and centuries, "but in the end is always on time."

Book Club Hears
Of Co-operatives

"The Co-operative Movement" was the subject of three addresses presented last night at the regular meeting of the Democratic Book Club in the Professional Women's Club Rooms, Union Building.

Prior to the addresses presented by Miss M. Barker, Mrs. P. Raymont and J. R. Scooby, a business session of the club was held.

Mrs. Raymont addressed the gathering on "Co-operative Medicine and Hospitalization," and how it had been developed in the United States, centered around the life history of Dr. M. Shadid.

Dr. Shadid was born in Syria in 1881 of poor parentage. He received elementary education there and after many hardships immigrated to the United States in 1892. Selling from door to door he received enough money to enter the Washington College at St. Louis for a medical course. On receiving his degree he started practice in Oklahoma.

In Oklahoma Dr. Shadid realized the need for co-operative medicine and hospitalization among the poor farmers and in 1931 he formed an association which had grown by 1935 to a membership of 50,000 with a capital of $150,000. Since that time other associations had been organized in parts of the United States, the speaker said.

Miss Barker spoke on "The History of the Co-operative Movement." She mentioned organizing of co-operatives in England and Scotland which later spread to Canada.

Mr. Scooby's address was titled "Credit Unions." The speaker stressed the importance of educating the people in the subject. Several unions were under organization on the island, he said.

BRITISH-ISRAELITES

Rev. Frank Sullivan, who is touring Canada under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation, gave the first of his addresses on Wednesday night in the First Baptist Church, to a deeply-interested audience. His subject was "The Kingdom of God," and he proved, from the Bible, that this Kingdom is a material Kingdom, given by God to his servants Israel, chosen by Him to administer it and its laws.

Tonight Mr. Sullivan will speak on "How I Accepted British-Israel Truth."

Mrs. Walter Curley, 1122 View Street, reported to police last night her premises were entered and three Rolls razors, valued about $25, were stolen.

WINNIPEG COLONY
WINTERING HERE

While people of the prairies are shovelling snow and shivering in zero temperatures, a large colony of Winnipeggers are playing golf under sunny skies in Victoria.

In golfing togs and carrying bags loaded with clubs, men and women from the Manitoba capital, with others from widely separated points on the prairies, each morning after breakfast gather in the Empress Hotel rotunda chatting, and the conversation is largely confined to the difference in the temperatures between this fortunate city and the chilly prairies.

Newest arrivals are greeted boisterously as they tell of cold, clear days and zero nights when they left their eastern homes for the coast.

The colony of Winnipeggers now wintering here grows daily, 50 being registered at the Empress today.

They include Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Grieve, Tex Blackburn, H.

Domesday Book Listed Slaves and "Villains"

Yesterday we spoke of how men gathered facts for the Domesday Book, in the time of William the Conqueror. Today let us see some of the things which were set down in the two volumes of the big book.

English census worker using machine in which punches cards.

On one page we read words with this meaning:

"In the villa is the church of St. Peter. The abbot holds thirteen and a half miles of land. The villans have six plow teams, and one more might be made. There are 41 cotters who render a shilling a year for their gardens. There are 25 houses of the abbot's soldiers, and of other men."

Those notes were about Westminster, which now makes up a part of Greater London. Today the land and buildings of Westminster are worth thousands of times as much money as in the time of William the Conqueror.

On another page the Domesday Book has these facts about a village called Limpfield:

"There are on the home farm five plow teams. There are 25 villans and six cotters with 14 teams among them. There is a mill, a church, four acres of meadow, two stone quarries, woods for 150 pigs, two hawks, nests in the woods, and 10 slaves."

We could go on with more notes of that kind, but those may be enough to show how the book runs along. It was a tax list, but it came close to being a census as well. It was the nearest thing to a census that England ever had had.

If the figures are added up, the Domesday Book gives a record of about 9,300 nobles and large landholders, 35,000 freemen, 25,000 slaves, 89,000 cotters and 108,000 villans.

Women and children were not counted. If we allow for them, the population of England at that time probably was about 1,500,000.

Today England has close to 40,000,000 people, not counting Scotland or Wales. Greater London has about five times as many people as there were in all England in the year 1086, when the Domesday Book was put together.

A census of Great Britain is now taken once in 10 years. The last such census was made in 1931. Another is due next year.

The British census is carried out with even greater care than was the Domesday Book. The census takers go to the homes of the people, instead of calling together a few persons to supply facts for the whole village.

HOROSCOPE

Friday, April 5

In the morning of this day the planetary influences are not important. Later, benefic aspects dominate. Under this sway there should be a strong urge toward helpfulness of individuals or nations. Women will be prominent in public work.

For women under the influence of the planet Herschel this is an auspicious date to sign leases or to engage in new employment. The configuration favors household interests. Cooking is to become popular as an accomplishment. Girls need not contemplate romance under this configuration. Advertising is to assume tremendous importance through the summer months. Artists as well as publishers will profit. Government direction of trade and commerce is under fortunate aspects. Canada is to make tremendous contributions to the progress of American mercantile and manufacturing interests. Women as shopkeepers will be numerous.

Warning of financial difficulties for warring nations is read in the stars. Great changes in long-established banking systems are foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. New business or professional associations are probable. The young will be absorbed in romance.

Children born on this day probably will be clever, and original, sensitive to artistic influences and inclined to be sympathetic, easily deceived.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—When boys first begin to take notice of girls, why don't their mothers give them little parties and have them invite girls to their homes, give them a good time and encourage them to come again? They do that for their girls. Why could they not do it for their sons?

G. B. L.

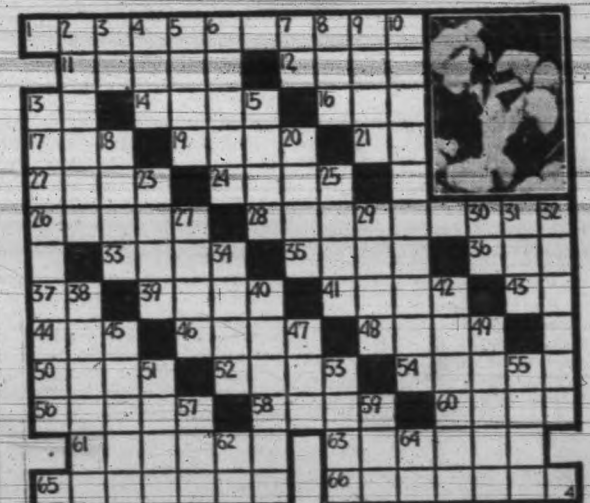

Answer: This is one of the finest suggestions that has been made to this column for a long time, and I hope that a great many mothers who read it will act upon it. For it will settle for them many of the problems that turn their hair grey with worry.

Every mother knows that the only way in which she can possibly find out what kind of boys and girls her own daughter is playing about with is by having them come to her house, where she can look them over and get a pretty good perspective of their manners and morals. It is a lot of trouble to have young people rampaging through the house, turning on the radio at unseemly hours, eating up the fresh chocolate cake and driving Father to read his paper in his own bedroom, but it saves many a heartache later on, because Mother can probably nip Mary's little romance in the bud by a caustic comment on some hoodlum youth who smells of liquor or by making fun of some Weary Willie who lets his mother support him.

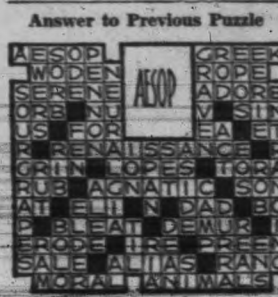

And Mother could do just as much for Tom if she would let him invite his girl friends to the house. Maybe more, because she could make him see the different girls through her eyes and point out to him traits of character which his boyish vision did not recognize. She would tell him which were fine and which were common, which were ladies and which were not, which were gold-diggers and which liked a boy for himself instead of what he could give her. It would be a rare education in feminine psychology and would prevent many an unsuitable marriage.

DOROTHY DIX.

Masonic Choir Concert Enjoyed

A concert by the Masonic Choir under the direction of Cyril Warren with Miss Elinor Swain, mezzo-soprano as assisting artist, and moving pictures of the royal visit to Victoria, pleased a capacity audience in the Oak Bay United Church last night. The program was under the auspices of the Oak Bay Men's Club.

In addition to numbers by the choir and Miss Swain, choir members George Cornelius gave tenor solos, Syd Chivall gave bass solos and Maurice Thomas and J. W. Buckler were heard in duet numbers.

Miss Swain's numbers were "Rain," "To the Sun," "In the Merry Month of May," "The Song of the Robin," "The Slave Song" and "Coming Through the Rye." The choir sang "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Song of the Jolly Roger," "The Tides Rise, the Tides Fall," "Morning," "Jovial Beggar," "Hymn Before Action," "Sleeping," "Soldiers' Chorus," "Hush," "Shadow March," "Going Home" and "The Lost Chord."

"The Lost Chord" was sung by special request. George Peaker was accompanist and A. W. Trevett announced the numbers.

The second part of the program consisted of a colored motion picture film of the royal visit shown by George J. Alexander, deputy minister of fisheries, under the auspices of the provincial government.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge was chairman.

Dutch to Honor Dead Canadian Airman

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (CP)—Sergeant-Pilot James Miller, 26, whose father lives at Jarvis, Ont., will be given a military funeral by the Netherlands government Friday.

Miller was killed when Netherlands Fokker fighters shot down a Royal Air Force bomber near Rotterdam February 28. The Canadian, jumping out of the plane at a height of 35 feet, was struck by one of the wings and killed instantly.
